

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

The results of this study show that the effectiveness of using the Voice of America (VOA) English learning YouTube channel to improve students' understanding of degree of comparison motivates students to learn English. , in particular the degree of comparison. Based on the findings of this study, researchers are employing the Voice of America (VOA) Learning English YouTube channel instead of teaching comparison without using the Voice of America (VOA) Learning English YouTube channel. We conclude that it is more effective to teach. The experimental group's highest score was 92 points, its lowest was 50 points, and its average was 75 points. The control group had the highest score of 88 points, the lowest score of 48 points, and the mean for this group was 66 points. Shows that there is a significant difference between the level of instruction resulting from using VOA to learn English and the level of comparative instruction without using VOA to learn normal English.

B. Suggestion

There are several suggestions that can be given to teachers in teaching grammar, especially the degree of comparison, so that students are more interested and understand the lesson.

1. Teachers should use the VOA learning english youtube channel in teaching grammar techniques, especially the degree of comparison, because it is proven to be an effective technique and teachers must be more creative and innovative in teaching and learning activities, not only choosing and presenting media, but also making more activities to increase students' interest and motivation in learning English, especially grammar.
2. The school should encourage their english teacher to be more creative and innovative in conducting english teachibg and learning activities, enhance their facilities and teaching media, and willingly improve the education standard in indonesia in general.
3. YouTube can be used by SMPN 24 Kota Serang to teach degree comparison since it can increase students' interest and comprehension.
4. The school should improve its resources and teaching tools to enable its English teachers to be more inventive and creative in how they conduct English teaching and learning.

5. The next researcher would take this study as their reference and information to conduct a better research on the same or different issues relating to the experimental research in english Teaching.
