

PREFACE

Bismillahirrahmanirrahim.

Praise and gratitude the author prays for the presence of Almighty God who has bestowed His grace so that this book can be published. And writer would never forget to express a lot of sincere and honest thanks to those who have helped in making complete of this book. Deepest gratitude also directed to my parents, Name and Name. Without understanding and attention from them, it feels like imposible to finish this book.

In this book, the author tries to share knowledge and experience in English conversation. The author tries to help students and prospective teachers of English who want to and are studying English conversation or who wants to improve his skills in speaking.

This book also can not be separated from the other English conversation books that are already widely available that the authors take the contents and the author is trying to convey with his own writing style in the hope the material in this book can be easily understood.

Limited knowledge and experience of the author may make this book is far from perfect. The author do not rule out the possibility that this book will invite a lot of feedback and suggestions. Author expects input and suggestions that can spur us to further develop and mutually enhance our knowledge in research, especially research in the teaching of English in Indonesia.

Hopefully this book can help anyone who wants to learn English conversation.
