Dear Author (s)

Please carefully read the below-mentioned comments from reviewers and incorporate them properly

Comments:

The paper clearly expresses its case, measured against the technical language in the field and the expected knowledge of the journal's readership. However, more attention is required to be paid to the clarity of expression and readability. The language may be improved.

It is suggested to define specific policy implications that define the policy aspect of your findings.

Add the latest references, at least five

Add a conclusion and explain the future prospects of your work

Clearly mention the pros and cons of your work

Proofread your paper and rectify grammatical errors

Note: Carefully revise your article, meet each and every single comment or else it will be rejected directly
