ABSTRACT

Rina, SRN: 191230071, Paper Title: Teaching Reading by Using Overview, Key Ideas, Read, Recall, Reflect and Review (OK4R) Method (A Quasi Experiment Research with the Tenth Grades of MA Daar Et-Taqwa Petir).

This research investigated Teaching Reading (Narrative Text) using Overview, Key Ideas, Read, Recall, Reflect and Review (OK4R) Method. This research used a Quasi-experiment research it was conducted based on the two main problems : How the OK4R method have any appreciable impact on students' reading comprehension ?; How is the effectiveness differences between students who receive instruction using the OK4R method and students who don't use the OK4R method ?. The researcher collected the data from 30 students consisted as experimental class 15 students and control class 15 students. The instrument were pre-test and post-test. The result of the research show that : The mean score of the pre-test related to students' initial reading skill of experimental group was 49,33 and the control group was 56, both are included in the low category; The implementation of OK4R method in students teaching reading with material asking and giving opinions; The Wilcoxon (t-test) proving that Asym. Sig. (2-tailed) has a value of $0.000 < 0.05$. it means that the alternative hypothesis (H_0) is rejected. These result indicate that there is a significant effect of the implementation of Overview, Key Ideas, Read, Recall, Reflect and Review (OK4R) Method on improving students' reading comprehension.
