ABSTRACT

Azriel Sani Akbar. 181230179. 2023. “The Effect of Spelling Bee Game To Improve Students’ Pronunciation Skill On Narrative Text (An Experimental Research of Eight Grade at SMPN 1 Cipeucang Kab.Pandeglang)”

This research investigates of Spelling Bee Game use for teaching narrative text to improve students’ pronunciation. The writer took this research at SMPN 1 Cipeucang and collected the data from 66 students that spared into two classes. Population of this research was the eighth grade students’ of SMPN 1 Cipeucang academic year 2022/2023. The sample of the research used class VIII A as an experimental class and VIII B as a control class. The method that is used in this research was Quantitative method and used quasi-experimental research design with use the instruments were three stages are pre-test, treatment and pos-test. The result of the research is the mean score of experimental class was 38,93. After using Spelling Bee game, the mean score increased to 75. The data analysis is using t-test the value of t_0 or t_{test} is 13,52 and the degree of freedom (df) was 64. Based on the result, it can be seen that H_a is accepted because $t_{observe}$ is higher than t_{table} . It can be concluded that Spelling Bee game is effective to be applied in taught narrative text and based on t-test, using Spelling Bee game has significant effect towards students’ pronunciation skill.
