

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter, the researcher presents conclusions and suggestions based on his findings and this research. The research findings are summarized in the first section, and suggestions regarding the objectives of the teaching and learning process are made in the second.

A. Conclusion

From the results of observations, researcher concluded that the strategies used in public speaking at Al Madina Islamic Boarding School looked good. Public speaking can help students explore their speaking skills, so they can improve their speaking abilities, especially at the Al Madina Islamic boarding school which links this activity to da'wah.

Based on the results of interviews with Al Madina Islamic Boarding School students, researcher found that there are other activities in this CLI club, which can help students in public speaking activities, from this strategy they are taught how to understand linguistic elements, writing, and even open a dictionary to translate as well. at the institution the language is taught. The connection with da'wah is the use of good language and the sources used are based on the Al- Qur'an and hadith so the content of the message conveyed in this activity is useful in adding other insights.

B. Suggestion

Based on the research results, researcher provide several suggestions as follows:

1. For the students

Researcher anticipate that students will speak more and more accurately when practicing speaking skills through public speaking, especially in English. Students must build self-confidence and mentality in learning and develop the level of language proficiency, convey Islamic teachings well, and use language especially English.

2. For teachers

Teachers should take part or participate directly in public speaking activities in order to be a good example in implementation, not only provide material when other activities are taking place, create a friendly atmosphere in the class, and encourage each student to take the opportunity to speak to explore more.

3. Further research

Future researchers can develop the findings of this study further. The researcher believes that future researchers will perfect this research.
