Berlian Chyntia Fakh. 191230098. 2023. “Fostering Speaking Skills Through Noice Application (A Quasi-Experimental Research on Tenth Grade of SMKN 4 Serang)”. Undergraduate Research Paper, Department of English Education, Faculty of Education and Teacher Training, University of Islamic State ‘Sultan Maulana Hasanuddin’ Banten.

Advisers: Dr. Yuyu Heryatun M.Pd and Tri Ilma Septiana, M.Pd

The main aim of this research is to measure the effectiveness of implementing the Noice application to improve students' speaking skills. researcher used quasi-experiments as a research method to find out whether students' vocabulary mastery in the experimental class could increase gradually after receiving treatment using the Noice application. Researcher used a pre-test and final test involving 60 students as samples who were divided into 2 classs. Researcher use the t-test to analyze data and carry out hypothesis testing. The findings of this study show that $t_0 > t_t$ or $8.58 > 1.67$. This means that the alternative hypothesis (H_a) is accepted and the null hypothesis (H_0) is also rejected. In other words, it can be concluded that there is a significant influence in using the Noice application on improving the students speaking skills of tenth grade at SMKN 4 Serang. Apart from that, qualitatively, the findings of this research also reveal that the use of the Noice application is very flexible and easy for students to use in the learning process by giving them the opportunity to learn English more creatively and innovatively using this digital media and can be adapted to the material and learning objectives in the syllabus.
