

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

Based on the research finding that is presented in the previous chapter, the researcher would like to give conclusions as follows:

1. From pre test and post test between experimental class and control class, the researcher has already known that the students gave the treatment by kangguru indonesia package get better scores and more significant improvement their listening skill than the students that did not give the treatment.
2. Based on the result of the data about using kangguru indonesia package in teaching listening, showed that the distribution score in experimental class is greater than control class.

B. Suggestion

According to the conclusions above the writer would give some suggestions as follows:

1. For the teacher

The teacher should be developing english learning process in the classroom in order to make students interested and master the material. Using good material can improve the understanding student to learn english especially in teaching listening, The teachers must be studying continuously because the knowledge is still developing and follows the era and the teachers must study about the characteristic and differences from left brain and right brain because they are useful.

2. For the students

The students should always be active in learning process, the students must study hard for trying to listen to pay close attention the speaker and the students have to be successful in mastering english and be diligent in listening. Because listening is the way of communication.