

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

A. CONCLUSION

This research is included in the Research and Development type of research (R&D) or using research and development methods using the ADDIE Model. The method used with procedural models. The procedural way is implemented in a way comply with the rules that have been determined so as to produce products and test the effectiveness of these products. Based on research results in the discussion, explained that:

1. Students need specific English learning, which in the culinary department students need extra to speak because in this department students will be placed in the restaurant services, reservations and kitchen sections.
2. The module is the product to develop the student English speaking skill. The module was arranging by carefully cause the module is made by analyzing the necessity, analyzing the student characteristic, and analyzing the curriculum. And afterthat the module is needed to be validated by materials validator and media validator. And the final is in the implementation and evaluating phase that the module is ready to use in department of catering.

B. SUGGESTIONS

Based on the conclusions above, the suggestions given are as follows.

1. Teachers can use the module of speaking for developing students speaking skill.
2. Students can use the module of speaking for learning media independently at home.
3. The researcher can develop more the module of speaking for more improving the students speaking skill.