

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

This study had discussed the types and patterns of inflectional and derivational affixes used in Avenger Infinity War Movie. Therefore, this following conclusion is based on the research problems.

1. The inflectional affixes used in Avenger Infinity War Movie with the suffix -s as plural marker is most frequently used by the members of Avenger Infinity War because this kind of suffix is most nouns taken as inflectional suffix to form a plural.
2. There are two types of derivational affixes; change the lexical category of part of speech and changing the meaning of the lexical category of bases.
3. The derivational affixes used in Avenger Infinity War movie in changing the lexical category of speech, namely suffix -ing is the most frequently used in nominal suffixes. This suffix make verb into noun which called as a gerund. This suffix is expressing the action of the verb or its result, product, material, etc. therefore this suffix always using in everyday dialogue especially in movie.

Next, suffix -ed is the most frequently used in adjectival suffixes, this suffix forming adjective from noun. It often use in dialogue to indicate the condition or quality resulting from the action of verb.

Furthermore, suffix -ly, it is the most frequently used in adverbial suffixes because the actors want to make clear about their expression that happened in this movie to the audiences/viewers. This suffix forming from adjective and it indicate to a certain manner or degree.

4. From that we can know that the distinction between inflectional and derivational affixes is that inflectional affixes are more productive, including in this movie dialogue where the daily conversation is mainly happens.

B. Suggestion

Having known the result of this research, the writer humbly gives suggestions as follow:

1. For the students: they should have more study the derivational and inflectional words not only from their hand book but also from another sources like movie subtitle.
2. For the teacher: they should have to vary the teaching and learning media especially in teaching vocabulary, grammar and morphology are one of by using movie subtitle.
3. For the future researcher: they can continue from this research in terms of pragmatic because it would be very interesting if in a film analyzed from the meaning by looking at the situation and conditions.
