

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

Based on the results of data analysis and discussion, the researcher obtained conclusions that can be drawn from research regarding students' perceptions of the use of google classroom in learning writing.

1. From the result of the data, the researcher calculated from all answers of questionnaire. the researcher found that most of the students had a positive perception toward the use of google classroom in learning writing . It shown students' percentage of questionnaire, there were 18,22% answered strongly agree, 46,78% answered agree, 23,56% answered neither agree or disagree, 8,56% answered disagree, and 2,89% from the total of the respondents answered strongly disagree. It means that the most students felt that the use of google classroom really helped students in learning writing. According to the data, google classroom helped students to be able to received material and collected assignments easily and on time wherever they are. the use of google classroom also save their effort and time. not only that, google classroom also facilitated communication between students and teachers make it easier to communicate even though it is not face to face.

2. According to interview data that the researcher obtained, students think that Google Classroom can help them in learning writing, because students can still receive materials and collect assignments from a distance using Google Classroom. However, students face several obstacles when using Google Classroom, one of which was a lack of internet access. According to the data, an unstable internet connection is a problem that happens when using Google Classroom, especially when students want to upload large files such as videos and other large files.
