ABSTRACT

Lidiana Humearoh, 171230031. Teachers Creativity in Using Media for Online English Learning (A case study at state Islamic senior high school 16 Jakarta).

This research is motivated by the use of media in online learning during the pandemic. The creativity of teachers in using the media is very much needed. It aims to keep teaching and learning activities running even in a pandemic. So the purpose of this research is to find out how the creativity of teachers in applying media in online learning. How do students respond to the media used and to find out media are effective and efficient.

This study used qualitative research methods. Data were collected by interview, observation and documentation techniques. Respondents in this study were 2 English teachers and 10 students. The results showed that the English teacher at MAN 16 JAKARTA was quite creative in using media during online learning. Student responses to the media used are very good, there are only problems with the internet network. Media that has been frequently used include whatsapp, e-learning, YouTube videos, zoom meetings, power point and Microsoft word. Based on the theory (Ramlan: 2016) the researcher concludes that the categories of media that are effective include whatsapp and e-learning, while efficient media include videos, zoom meetings and power points.
